chusetts. She was handsome, and reports agree in saying that she was as good as she was pretty. Both of the medical students were smitten, and for the first time in their lives a feeling of estrangement came between them. The natures of the two young men were essentially different. One was frank and open as the day, while the other was taciturn and reserved. Both paid court to the lady, but she soon manifested a choice for the more frank character, and they became engaged. The defeated suitor seemed to bear his disappointment resignedly. In time the lady went home, and the successful suitor went abroad to complete his studies. While absent letters were re-celved by the girl concerning her lover which created the feeling that he was false to her, and finally one came in his own handwriting bidding her farewell, and stating that he was to be married to a lady of rank. This proved almost a death-blow to the girl, but she soon rallied and sought in every way to conceal the traces of grief. The defeated suitor was at hand, and again proffered his homage; and finally, in a fit of pique, she married him.

one he loved was false by nature. He reasoned that there was cause for her change, and, like a sensible man, he commenced the task of unravelling the mystery. After much trouble he obtained an interview with

FIRE ON BYRD STREET LAST EVENING. Three or four minutes before 6 o'clock last evening an alarm of fire was sounded from Station 14, corner Tenth and Byrd streets, caused by the burning of No. 1011 Byrd street and the partial burning of Nos. 1009 and 1007 Byrd street, occupied respectively by Patrick Lydon, Mrs. Besin, and Henry

The fire originated from a stove in the kitchen of No. 1011, occupied by Patrick Lydon. The building being very old and dry, the fire spread with astonishing rapidity, and soon the whole house was in flames and the eaves of the large cooper-shop burning. A plug-stream from the Tenth-Street Hose Company upon the cooper-shop, and a plug-stream from No. 3 steamer's hose-carriage on No. 1007, kept the fire within those bounds until the arrival of the steamers, which were put to work at the basin, and soon had the fire under control, and, indeed, put out. Total loss upon the buildings about $1,000; loss on furniture, $200. No insurance. The houses were owned by the Haxall brothers. Three families occupied No. 1011 Byrd street-viz., Mrs. Shea, Mrs. O'Brian, and Mr. Lydon-all of whom suffered loss from destroyed clothing and
